We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.—Acts 4:13.

Bob Sartwell missed last week's Farm of the Week pictured and was stalled by this one. Guess, I will have to get Chas. Perry as official previewer.

Mabel, the Donleys and the Littles at Osberry must have been paying their preachers because only they got that good shower of rain Monday. The rain passed up some of the heathens there just like No. 4 used to pass up a poor tramp.

Andrew, J. Fred Austin and I were pretty things Tuesday afternoon as we took off and went to fishing at Enid that afternoon. The score: me, (1) one; Andrew, 5; J. Fred S. J. Fred is now our 'printers' devil.

All of his friends, including the Whitaker family, were alarmed Tuesday when the word got out that Kirk had some sort of attack, but felt better about it Wednesday when, after a shave and a bath Wednesday he was feeling much better at Grenada Hospital. Some of these days, I am going to put off too long, publishing an article about Kirk, Grenada's one-man industry. Of course, I am referring to W. H. Kirk, but nobody ever uses his initials; at least, I never do.

Two weeks ago, we took the bits from the sassiest editors' mouth and turned her loose. Since then, we have had to jettison the brakes on her, as we have so many other things that just had to go.

Jeff Marter brought in the 4th bloom which was taken from T. J. Jr.'s field.

W. E. Jackson, now at home after a long stay in the hospital, is indeed much better as he was able to eat a mess of bass Andrew and I carried him.

Roland Ross, one of our many colored friends and subscribers, paid up recently. We reminisced a bit about the Pou family, and the Orman family, and the McNamara family, and others who lived here when he and I were boys.

Back in those days, white parents and colored parents worked TOGETHER to make better children of both races.

And, who remembers Blind John Harper, the broom maker, and where he lived.

I will be 66 on July 5, 1954 and should soon be eligible for an old-age pension, also a pension for my long (7) service in the army. Anyone who lived thru the past 65 years should get something other than a kick in the pants. Hoover, Roosevelt, New Deal and, finally, Eisenhower, not to mention Bilbo and Vandaman.

Subscribers, please get ready for early receipt of a notice about YOUR subscription status, one of what we call those dunless duns.

John Lake; Grenada Industries Honored by Citizen Committee
(By Mrs. W. W. Whitaker)

Grenada citizens and a group of out of town friends and business associates gathered at the City Auditorium on Friday night to pay tribute to Mr. John Lake, president of Grenada Industries, Inc.

The entire hall was filled with tables arranged amid a lavish motif of southern flowers. The background of greenery on the rostrum, against which huge wicker baskets held aloft arrangements of gladioli and magnolias.

The honored guests table was most beautifully decorated with magnolias, cape jasmines and greenery. Hand-some silver candelabrum held white tapers and each taper was surrounded by rosettas of gardenias. The tables were all centered by greenery, cape jasmines and magnolia blossoms, roses and daisies.

On the decorating committee were Mesdames M. M. Batson, Ione Sisson, Walter Garner, Ed Embry, H.J. Ray, Sr., and Miss Mary Elizabeth McNeille.

Sponsors of this banquet and program was the Citizens Committee of Grenada with Mr. L. D. Boone, Sr. as chairman, who also served as Master of Ceremonies.

Rev. J. M. Frye, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, of which Mr. Lake is a vestry man, said grace.

Associates of Mr. Lake from out of town included Mr. L. L. Goodman of Indianapolis; V. P. of Grenada Industries; his son, Elliott Goodman of New York City and Dan Wolfe of Memphis, general manager of Associate Distributors.

Welcome was spoken by Grenada's Mayor, Dr. R. A. Clanton.

A group of distinguished guests from the M. P. & L. Co. and Miss Valley Gas Co. office from Jackson were introduced.

Other guests introduced, who were seated at the honored guests table were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Connerly, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Geesla, Miss Mae Caldwell, Mr. Willard Odum, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blenz, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lang, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hubbard, and Mrs. Hubbard received additional mention as Secretary of Grenada County Chamber of Commerce.

Attorney William Winter made a splendid address, speaking of the fine cooperation between the town of Grenada and management of the Grenada Industries, giving fair and impartial praise to Mr. Lake, the Goodman family, and the high type gentlemen who are associated with Grenada Industries. He said, among other pertinent remarks 'the trend of Grenada's growth has been markedly parallel to the growth of Grenada Industries, and the success of this ladies hosiery manufacturing operation has mirrored the progress of this community.'

At the close of his address, on behalf of the citizens of Grenada, a witch, with appropriate engraving, was presented Mr. Lake.

Mr. Lake, visibly moved by the honor shown him by people he and his family have grown to love in their eleven years as citizens here, responded by making a fine speech of acceptance and of gratitude. Mr. Lake thanked the citizens of Grenada for their cooperation through the years, and of special interest was his plea that as other industries come to Grenada to cooperate with their management as well as they had at his plant.

After Mr. Lake received prolonged applause, Mr. L. L. Goodman paid a fine tribute to Mr. Lake with whom he has been associated with from their early days in business. Mr. Lake joined the Goodman interest years ago after working for DuPont where Mr. Lake made the first tests with nylon yarn and sold nylon yarn to several companies willing to perfect machinery to knit this wonder fabric.

Speaking of Mr. Lake's character Mr. Goodman said, 'John Lake is a man of his word, and that, in my way of thinking, is one of the finest things one can say about any man.'

Mrs. Lake shared honors with her husband, seated at his right, and looking very lovely in a white formal which with its sprinkle of rhinestones, was most becoming. Her corsage was of white carnations. Their two lovely young daughters, Judy and Libby were present, and sat at one of the smaller tables. The Lakes have another daughter, Josephine, age 7 years, however we did not see her there.

The buffet table was laden with trays of baked ham, sliced turkey, jumbo shrimp, salads, casseroles, tossed green salads and sweet pickle. Food was prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Darras.

Miss Peggie Evans, organist, played soft music throughout the evening. Her father, Frank Evans, had moved their organ from their home for this occasion.

About 350 guests attended this beautifully arranged affair.

The Tree Improvement Program of Mississippi Forestry Commission

(By Gerald Stevens, Area Forester)

In recent years great progress has been made in the improvement of farm crops, flowers, and livestock by taking advantage of the laws of heredity. These laws prescribe that certain characteristics in parents can be passed along to their offspring.

Thus, by selecting plants and animals with desirable inheritable traits, we can be sure that their descendants will usually embody these traits.

Until recently very little work had been done toward improving forest trees. Usually the opposite has been the practice. The best trees have been cut and the rejects left to reseed our land. No farmer would think of selling his best cattle and keeping the scrubs at home for breeding. Yet, many landowners have done just that with their timber. We may assume then that under this practice, most superior trees are cut because they are usually the largest and best trees in a stand.

There are two generally recognized ways of obtaining superior trees. They are: (1) selection and (2) breeding. These are often used together in tree improvement work. The Mississippi Forestry Commission is concentrating on selection because it feels that in the beginning stage of tree improvement, improved strains of trees can be produced for the State's timber growers more quickly and cheaper by selecting superior trees, already developed by nature, than by trying to produce tailor-made trees by a program of breeding and hybridization. Thus, the Miss. Forestry Commission is seeking out the very best trees from among the millions of natural crosses made by nature, the master tree breeder.

General characteristics of superior trees are: (1) high vigor, (2) good self-pruning ability, (3) a straight trunk with little taper, (4) trunk and crown without forks, (5) narrow column-like crown, (6) small branches and (7) resistance to diseases and insects.

Number 10 In A Series of 52

—This Series Sponsored by Jiney-Jungle, Grenada.

If this is YOUR farm, you can get, without charge, a nicely mounted picture of the farm, but you must come to the Grenada County Weekly and identify it.

While you are in the GCW office, we hope to interview you and get a story, for subsequent publication, about this property and about your family.

Jim Eastland Opens Up In Forest

Senator Jim Eastland formally opens his campaign for reelection Saturday, June 26, with a statewide rally at the Community House in Forest.

It was in Forest, where he formerly practiced law, that he opened his successful campaign for senatorship in 1942.

Sensor Eastland is scheduled to speak at 11:30 a. m. and his address will be broadcast over a statewide radio hookup.

A sound film of portions of his address will be made for presentation later on TV stations. The film will be seen over WLBT Saturday night and over WJTV Sunday.

The senator will be presented by Judge Percy M. Lee, associate justice of the state supreme court, and longtime friend of the Eastland family. Jack Stuart, Morton business man and partner, will be master of ceremonies.

At the conclusion of the address, box lunches including fried chicken and trimmings will be served to the crowd.

Chairman of the rally is B. C. Rogers of Morton, who said communications from all over the state indicate 'every county will be represented'.

Rogers said all five Scott County colonels on the staff of Governor White have accepted invitations to sit on the speaker's platform.

The colonels are Mr. Rogers, A. B. Farris and M. H. Stewart, all of Morton; H. H. Warren and Marx Huff, of Forest.

Special musical entertainment will be offered before and after the address.

Arthur Sullivan, state campaign manager, said Senator Eastland will discuss highlights of his twelve years in the senate, referring to legislation he has sponsored or fought for which 'has been beneficial to farmers, veterans, needy aged, dairymen, cattlemen, and all Mississippians.'

Particular emphasis, he said, will be placed on the Eastland-Aiken amendment to the Water Facilities Act, which, if approved, will provide government assistance to Mississippi farmers for purchase of irrigation facilities.

The amendment already has passed the senate and has the endorsement of the president. The program has been in effect in western states for several years.

Sensor Eastland also will discuss the impact of the recent supreme court ruling against segregation, Sullivan said, and will describe his proposal for a constitutional amendment to return 'sovereign authority over education, health and morals' to the individual states.

Attention Mothers

We have had three cases of polio reported to this office. Advice: Keep your children away from the swimming pool, theatres, and at home. Fatigue, hunger and mixing in crowds each have some danger - so keep your children at home.

—Grenada Co. Health Department, R. A. Clanton, MD, Health Officer. Editors Note: The three children stricken are James Coats, 5 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Coats; Rose Helen Colley, Negro girl, 2 years old whose parents live on the Wilkins plantation in Beat 5; and little Marjory Lee Slovack of College Blvd., whose father works with the gas line company.

While wondering, wonder how Esther Jones, that pretty gal Rollie married, is getting along.

"Pete" Embry Is Dead; Buried Wednesday

Felix Everett Embry died after a long illness in his home in Grenada Tuesday morning June 22, 1954.

Known everywhere as 'Pete' Embry, he was a native of Duck Hill, Montgomery County, and was about 60 years of age.

His death leaves another gap in the ranks of the 'home company' of Grenada soldiers who were in World War I together. He was a member of what was called The Sanitary Detachment which was the regimental medical unit of that day and time.

After the war, he and Miss Rebecca Stokes married, but she died about 20 years ago. Pete inherited the ladies shop - The Quality Shop - which his wife had established. By inheritance and otherwise, Mr. Embry had acquired many farming interests, but these had been taken over by the government in the building of Grenada Reservoir.

A brother, B. W. Embry of Charleston, and a sister, Mrs. B. B. Mullin of Clarkston, Mo., are his only immediate survivors.

Rev. J. M. Metts, pastor of Duck Hill, had charge of the funeral services held Wednesday afternoon at Garner Brothers Funeral Home and at the graveside beside that of his wife in Odd Fellows Cemetery in Grenada.

—FIRST BLOOM—

The first cotton bloom of the season was sent in by Dan Williams, who owns a small farm near the Duncan old place, west of Holcomb, in Beat 5.

Dan has been bringing in first blooms for many years.

Sid Bailey brought the second bloom. Mr. Bailey lives near Clear Creek Ranch.

LONG Holiday Next Week

SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.—Acts 4:18.

In appreciation of the write-up of the Dubard, Roberta Dubard Allen sent me and Mabel a nice cluster of white carnations. If we had a good write-up, we had a good subject—the Dubards. Mabel used these flowers on the altar at All Saints Sunday.

I certainly would like to see ONE candidate from each beat run on a platform, promising that he would work hard, should be elected, to establish a county-unit government in Grenada County and do away with the wasteful '3 counties in 1 county' system we now have. Redistricting the county, long advocated by me, would be a fine thing, but it does not seem to have 'taken on' as I would like to have seen it do.

Some dabbler in the past dug up the statement that, during World War I, when Bet Horn was mail sergeant, Boots Jones, now of Cleveland, beat up Bet because he (Boots) thought Bet was holding out mail for him.

'Sop' Earl Hallam of Dayton, Tenn., and World War I fame, was in Grenada the past week. If his wife was with him, as is likely, I did not see her.

J. Fred Austin has been officially installed as the GCW 'devil'. We have not had a 'devil' since James Chapuis, since graduated, was with us. Around a print shop, the devil does whatever he is told to do, and that's many things. We took up the 'J. Fred' from J. Fred Muges, the television 'star' of Dave Garroway's show.

I heard that Cleon Proby of Miami was here visiting his Grenada folks, but did not see him, but I did see the daughter of that family, Susan Grimes of Nashville. I have heard that Cleon is doing mighty well in Florida's city-by-the-sea.

Who of the old bunch remembers Chester A. A. Smith of Oxberry and World War I?

"Farm of the Week" Last Week

—This Series Sponsored by Jitney-Jungle, Grenada.

The farm headquarters depicted last week was the Jimmie L. Harris tract near Riverdale four miles north of Grenada. It is owned by Mr. Harris who had to move from his old home place, part of the Sebe McCormick old place in Beat 3, when Grenada Dam was built and relocated.

It contains 60 acres and is a small part of the 1400-acre pre-Civil War plantation, opened up in 1840 by Richard H. Stokes and named 'Riverdale Plantation'. The railroad from Grenada to Memphis was put in just prior to the Civil War and the part now owned by Mr. Harris was isolated by the railroad from the main part of the plantation. The remainder of the old plantation is now owned by Mesdames George Garner and Fred Giles, heirs of the late Henry Stokes, who had inherited the background material. On account of the nature of the thing, the Harris tract was more or less an 'orphan' and, as such, did not receive much attention, but has received a lot of attention under the new ownership: a comfortable home, barns, fences and ponds, all revealed by the aerial picture shown. The family consists of mother, father and four boys: Barkley Harris erdale Plantation. The railroad from Grenada to Memphis was put in just prior to the Civil War and the part now owned by Mr. Harris was isolated by the railroad from the main part of the plantation. The remainder of the old plantation is now owned by Mesdames George Garner and Fred Giles, heirs of the late Henry Stokes, who had inherited the

Every farmer can stay awake an hour extra and, in the meantime, think up enough things to do to require a lifetime, but the Harris family, which try to grow its own food and to continue a progressive plan of improvement of their relatively small place.

See the pole in front of the house: that pole brings in electricity and electricity brings to rural areas, such as this one, all the things that old man R. H. Stokes, who opened up the plantation in 1840, merely dreamed of.

They use proper and adequate amounts of fertilizer on all their crops; they practice what may well be called general farming; they have Hereford and Jersey cattle; they

Those privileged to attend the banquet honoring John Lake and Grenada Industries Friday evening of last week say that the caterer, T. Darras and Melba, put on a good show at eating time.

Personally I don't monkey around 'functions' blow-outs, etc., but I have a fine substitute in Mabel who puts on so much better 'appearance' than I do.

Those who attended the party honoring J. Lake told me that the 'elite' of Grenada was there to do the honors of the occasion.

T. A. Coleman, who has moved here from West Texas and brought his Santa Gertrudes cattle seems to have a wider grin on his face since his old lady has joined him here. He is the fellow who, when a few drops of rain fell in his face in West Texas, fainted and required several buckets of sand to revive him.

Old man Lewis Dubard and wife have two grandsons big enough to drive their car, so they have been visiting some of the Dubard kinsfolk in Texas. The old man reported his kinsmen were doing 'pretty well' in Texas. The folks are descendants of the elder Mr. Dubard's sister.

Albert Cohen; Sax Weir; Tommie Darras; Eliet Lawrence; Cliff Hamby Sr.; L. Friedman; all present or accounted for.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT IN MISSISSIPPI IS CREATING NEW JOB OPPORTUNITIES

field of

Transportation

ENGINEER

The increased rail traffic brought about by industrial development brings with it job opportunities for train crews, ticket agents, maintenance crews, and office personnel.

BUS OPERATOR

Our bus lines are a vital part of our transportation system today, and industrial expansion not only creates openings for operators, but also for mechanics, office workers, and other personnel in this growing business.

TRUCK DRIVER

The highways of our state are filled today with convoys of trucks transporting Mississippi-made products to other sections of the nation. These trucks must be driven, serviced, and loaded, which opens up new and increased employment opportunities.

PILOT

Modern industry demands rapid service. This puts an increased importance on air transportation, and creates positions for pilots, navigators, and ground-crew personnel.

Many factors cause an industry to pick a certain area for the development of new factories and plants. When industrialists seek a construction site, they must consider the natural, agricultural, and human resources of that area. They must know about the government, the water resources, and the markets available. Favorable findings in all of these fields have helped tremendously in bringing new industries to Mississippi, thereby boosting the economic standing of the state.

Availability of transportation is another factor which is high on the checklist of industry location. Manufacturers must have a fast, inexpensive means of transporting their products to the proper markets. Merchants, in meeting their increased sales, must import a larger amount of goods from other areas. More industrial activity in an area means an increased passenger business for the trains, planes, and busses. With this increased trade, many new job opportunities are opening up in all phases of the transportation field.

As part of its overall job of "Helping Build Mississippi," Mississippi Power & Light Company maintains a fully-staffed Agricultural and Industrial Development Department, which works in close cooperation with state and local groups, agencies, and citizens in helping secure more industries for Mississippi.

HOSPITALITY invitation to a nation

June is "Hospitality Month" in Mississippi... a month in which the state's tourist and travel promotion activities reach their peak. 1043 Mississippi GULF dealers who sell the high-quality petroleum products for which GULF is internationally famous are busy providing courteous, friendly service to visitors... and directing them to Mississippi's many tourist attractions. GULF's Tourguide service is planning Mississippi routes for hundreds of travelers.

Wholesome "Hospitality" has become Mississippi's trademark throughout the nation... with the result that more visitors are spending more travel dollars in Mississippi each year. This same "Hospitality" has played a big part in the state's industrial development, too.

Mississippians' hospitable attitude toward business enterprises like GULF has been repaid by an ever-increasing flow of job-creating, tax-paying private capital into the state. Investment money, like people, tends to go where it is treated well.

Of the many segments of Mississippi's important oil industry, GULF alone has spent $120,000,000 in the development of the state's oil and gas resources. "Hospitality" — whether extended to tourists or industries — is indeed a "good sign for Mississippi."

Here Lies Israel

Lesson for June 27, 1954

IN THE graveyard of nations there lie many whose very names are strange to us. But among all the unfamiliar names—Phus, Lydia, Elam and many another—there is one we all know: Israel. It was a going nation for about 200 years. Seen through the eyes of other nations it was "small potatoes" as we know from inscriptions which have been dug up in recent years by the archaeologists' spades; it covered no more of the earth's surface than New Jersey does. But in its Dr. Foreman's own eyes it was important; what nation is not? When Israel was just a little older than the United States is now, it crashed to nothing, and since that time has been only an unfragrant memory, a dead nation. The writer of II Kings 17 wrote its obituary.

The Nation Forgot God

What killed Israel? The nation did not die of old age, for 200 years is not a very long time for a nation to exist and prosper. Something killed that country. It might be said that it committed suicide—but what was the name of the poison which it swallowed? In one word, it was sin. But that does not tell us much. It is like giving "disease" on a death certificate as the cause of death. What disease? What sins? Looking over the record as II Kings 17 sums it up, we can see that serious sin which was the root of most others: forgetting God. The nation forgot what God had done for them in times past; they forgot that he is a God of righteousness, they supposed he did not specially care what they did so long as their tithes were paid up and they had a good record of attendance at public worship. They had reminders of "God" all over the place, but these were idols, images of beasts. They used the word "God" without realizing either the goodness, the greatness or the holiness of the only true God.

Can God Be Despised?

High-lighted in the sad obituary of a dead-and-gone nation is the fact that as a nation they despised the law of God. How is it possible to despise the Almighty? Nations and individuals show their real contempt for God by paying no attention to what he has said. Millions of people in America today act just as if the Ten Commandments (for example) were only a set of by-laws for fanatical churchmen, or—worse still—as if they were an out-dated set of rules from a primitive civilization. To judge from what you may read in any newspaper, would the Man from Mars suppose that Americans, as a people, are living by any Law of Love? If all the church members in our country were practicing Christians, would this country be what it is? A nation's sins both by the actual sins of the sinful and by the consent of those who know better but do nothing about it. Now you can despise God and his laws for a while; but his laws are not arbitrary, they are not like basketball rules that can be changed every season. The roads that lead away from God and his laws may be wide, but they are short. They come to a very dead end. It is possible to despise God; but it is not safe.

Paradox and Parallel

A nation can be simply peppered with religion and yet lose the salt of morality. In ancient Israel the name of God was everywhere; religious observances were going on "under every green tree" as the prophets said. But the more religion they had, the less morality. Israel died of a kind of moral dry-rot, in the midst of shrines without number. Dr. H. P. Van Dusen has recently made thinking Christians sit up and take startled notice with these two sets of facts. On the one hand, since World War II church membership has increased till today it is at an all-time high. Church attendance is also at an all-time high. Religious reading is popular. Young people are interested in religion more than for years past. But on the other hand; alcoholism has increased enormously; divorce has shot up; juvenile delinquency has multiplied; drug addiction has increased; sexual morality is sinking to a lower level. Can it be that in America as in Israel we fail to gear our religion into our behavior? Can it be that perhaps for all our "religion" we really have made an idol of the Dollar?

FIRST SERMON PREACHED BY THEN A YOUNG MAN Rev. A. L. O'Brian in Hattiesburg in 1907

"The Place Of Prayer In The Christian Life"

Matt 6:6, Christ said, 'when you pray enter into thy closet and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father, which is in secret and try Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.'

We see here the importance of prayer, the practice of God's children praying to Him, talking to our Father, Mark 1:35 'and in the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out and departed into a solitary place and then prayed.'

Luke 6:12, 'And it came to pass in those days that he went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God.'

Christ says: 'Our Father shall reward thee openly.' If we pray in secret, we can and will pray in public.

The Savior's sermon on the Mount is one of the most important groups of scripture in the Bible.

The 10 Commandments in (Exodus) 20, is great and its teachings are alive, but Christ is alive too. He brought life and immortality to light, and now christianity is a matter of the heart, not the head.

We need a revival in our prayer life so we would not use the same words and prayers we did when we first became christians. Christ makes it clear in His prayer life, that praying does not save us. We must be saved first before we can pray to Our Father in Heaven. Do His will first, then God will listen to us.

John 15:7, 'If you abide in me, and my words, abide in you, ask whatsoever you will and it shall be done unto you.'

To abide in Christ is to continue to live in Christ. His will and our wills working together, Ps: 37:4, 'Delight thyself also in the Lord and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart.'

Delight in a beautiful strong word, Ps. 37:5: 'Commit thy way unto the Lord, trust also in Him and He shall bring it to pass.'

Here commit, means to trust ones life entirely into God's hands.

If this world is to be saved we must realize the wonderful party we are to have in it and pray.

Thy Kingdom Come, Thy Will Be Done on Earth as it is Done in Heaven. Nights of prayer to God are followed by days of power with men.

Ps: 51:12:13, David prayed, 'Restore unto me the joy of Thy salvation; and uphold me with Thy free spirit, then will I teach transgressors Thy ways; and sinners shall be converted unto Thee.'

Look what God says about prayer in II Chron 7:14, 'If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sins, and will heal their land.'

This sermon was one of the first preached under a tent on Tuscon Ave., Hattiesburg, Miss. in 1907, when the Immanuel Baptist Church was organized with 13 members. Here the Miss. Womens College had its beginning and today remains as a light set on a hill, a school with a mission, with a new name, William Casey College, ministering to both men and women.

This message on prayer is dedicated to the cause of Christ in our schools and our churches.

FOR GOODNESS SAKE - - - EAT Honey

Many persons who are unable to eat candies or can sugar are able to eat honey. Is a natural sweet, "inverted", as chemists say, or partly pre-digested, so that it can be easily assimilated by the most delicate stomach. It is nature's own best food—a mild laxative, a health restorer and a flesh producer. Parents who are afraid to give their children ordinary sweets, need not hesitate to let them have honey freely. Their craving for sweets is natural and should be supplied from nature's own laboratory, the nectaries of the flowers. Could anything come from a cleaner, purer source?

EVERY PERSON HAS A CREDIT RATING

The only exception to this rule is the person who operates so exclusively on a cash basis that he finds it difficult to secure any credit references in times of actual necessity.

Do You Know What A Credit Bureau Does?

Your local Credit Bureau keeps on file your CREDIT RATING, readily available to credit-grantors with whom you wish to establish credit. Many persons are so acutely conscious of the value of establishing a Credit Rating, that they call the Credit Bureau immediately upon moving to a new town.

Have You Been Introduced To Signal Credit System

In order that the customer may know how his own credit rating is listed with the local Credit Bureau, the merchants and professional men of Grenada have adopted a system called SIGNAL CREDIT. This system operates very much as does the traffic signal on our street corners: as long as you (the customer or patient) are keeping accounts paid in a manner satisfactory to the credit-grantor, you may assume you are operating on the "green" light, or "go" signal.

If you allow your account to become delinquent, you may receive a "Caution" notice from the business with whom you have become past-due. This is a courteous reminder to "slow down" on charges, and try to make arrangements to bring your account back up into good standing.

When you, through disregard of this courteous notice, fail to meet this obligation or make arrangements for same, a "red-light" or "Stop" notice is sent to you, and further charge accommodations should not be requested until you have taken care of those already outstanding.

If this Stop notice is also disregarded, then a copy is sent to the Credit Bureau to be placed in the files, and to remain there a permanent record until notice of settlement of the account is received by the Credit Bureau.

This Signal Credit System, composed of courteous reminders of your credit standing, is brought to Grenada and endorsed by the Credit Bureau of Grenada as a service to the customer, patient, buyer, or client; and to the merchant, professional man, or other credit-grantor. We are here to serve YOU. Call us at 193 or 1698 whenever we may be of service or help.

SINCERELY YOURS,

SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

I happened to see Dr. Robert Sharp's fine little family Monday. He has some fine-looking kids and a very pretty little wife.

Speaking of Jones, wonder how Rollie Jones, over in the swamp, is getting along. Hope he has got rid of some of that belly he was adorned with the last time I saw him.

Speaking of the swamp, it can truly be said that the rich folks in that area still live very much like kings are supposed to live. They really put on the dog at weddings, receptions and other social events.

Up-to-date folks call the area under consideration, the 'delta', but I still call it the 'swamp', as it used to be called when I was a boy, when hill folks did not want to go there because they turned as yellow as pumpkins and died of hematuria, or yellow jaundice, but mostly from plain chills and fever.

Thanks to Charlie Liles for a copy of a fine sermon he delivered in Jackson Sunday. It is a great pity that the GCW just does not have room to reproduce lengthy articles, however worthy.

Thanks to Mrs. Thelma Scott for a nice mess of garden-fresh vegetables. The Scott family lives on the old Gene Atkinson place southwest of Holcomb.

—Praises The Doctors— (WWW)

Down in the vets hospital in Jackson, I once met a Mr. Thomas A. Walters who had drifted in there ill. It seems that, while his home was in Clinton, Iowa, he was more or less alone in the world. From what he had seen in that hospital, and from the good treatment he had received from Dr. Walsh and others there, he had about decided to settle in the South.

I have not seen or heard of him since, until one day this week, he drifted into Grenada to see me. In the meantime, he had drifted to Florida and then to Biloxi where he became ill again and was conditionally received and well treated at the vets hospital in Biloxi and mentioned Dr. King there who was particularly fine to him.

He spoke mighty well of the South, of Mississippi and of Biloxi and of Jackson vets hospitals and has decided that, when he leaves his old home in Clinton, Iowa, where he is going to settle down in Biloxi where he will be an out-patient of the vets hospital there.

BIRTH CERTIFICATES

REQUIRED FOR ALL CHILDREN

House bill 15, Special session of Legislature, year 1953, requires that the school record of every public school pupil in the State must contain proof of age AS VERIFIED BY BIRTH CERTIFICATE. This law takes effect July 1, 1954, and of course will be in effect when all schools open for the next session.

For nearly thirty years the State Board of Health has furnished free of charge to practically every mother a birth certificate of her child shortly after the birth was registered. If mothers have kept these certificates, they may be shown to teachers at the beginning of school. Perhaps some children have already entered their birth certificates to prove their age at school. It will not be necessary to show birth certificates to the teachers and school every year. A record should be kept by the schools.

If a child has not proved his or her age to the teacher with a birth certificate, and has no birth record to show the teacher, then the parents must apply to the State Board of Health for a certificate of birth for this purpose.

In obtaining a delayed birth certificate, you may secure form VS 417 from your school superintendent or the county superintendent's office. Information on forms must be complete when making application for birth certificate. These forms must be mailed to the STATE BOARD OF HEALTH BUREAU OF Vital Statistics Jackson 5 Mississippi. A fee of fifty cents is required for each application to pay for handling charges.

If this matter is put off until the beginning of next session, the Board of Health may have such mass of applications that the service may not be rendered for weeks.

NOTE: If pupil was born in another State, send the application to the Board of Health at the State Capitol of that State, and enclose one dollar money order.

Signed: JOHN E. GRAY, JR.
Supt. of Education, Grenada County

Town Talk
BY FED ROBINSON

Across the street from our home is a good size lot that has grown up in the most ugly weeds you ever saw and its in that condition simply because it has had no care from human hands. Well isn't that something like our lives? If we should seclude ourselves from our fellow-man, if we fall in our social contacts and duties, if we never entertain any company and if we never visit with other people, our own lives would grow up in weeds of anti-social tendencies and pretty soon we'd not want to love any one or be loved and that would be the end of our happiness. The Master Architect expected us to whet our personalities upon the personalities of other people and there's nothing else we can do to keep our mental processes working smoothly.

Heard a story once of a very mean man who lived a wicked life and prided himself in having never done a good thing for anyone. He accumulated a lot of worldly wealth - owned many acres of land and after his death they found he had made a will leaving all his land to the Devil. The court puzzled over this strange will for some time and then decided the best way to comply with the will would be to leave the land untouched.

So that's what the court order was - just leave that land alone, no one is to even walk upon - because it now belongs to the Devil. Well, in a few years the fences rotted down, the weeds grew and grew, briars and thorns sprang up everywhere and the place was horrible to see and of course contributed nothing to the welfare or happiness of the community. It was the Devil's farm and an absolute contrast to the lands about it which showed the results of kindly human hands and hearts. This little story reminds us of a parallel story of the two seas called the Dead Sea and the Sea of Galilee. The River Jordan flows into the Sea of Galilee keeping fresh water in a constant flow, and movement of water keeps it pure. Whereas the Dead Sea neither receives or gives any fresh water but just keeps its shores walled up and holds miserly all that it has and its own isolation causes its own stagnation and no living thing can or will remain alive in its waters. Another example: One can place a perfectly sound arm in a sling and carry it there a few weeks or a few months and it will perish away to half the size it was and all the strength will disappear. Well, then we see we must keep on the move! busy in our work, busy in our contacts with other people if we would find happiness and health - mentally or physically.

Up here in Arkansas we would be wondering what Mississippi is going to do about the segregation business in the schools, except we are so busy wondering what Arkansas is going to do about it. The strange thing about the recent supreme court decision is that is surprised anyone at all. We have had nearly a hundred years since Negroes were made citizens to plan and make ready for just such a decision and why is it anybody is surprised, and so far as the Constitution is concerned what other decision did we all expect? There is one thing we can count on. Every person earning any money at all is sure to be asked to set aside a larger part of it in taxes for schools because the colored people are not going to be satisfied to settle for some of the facilities our white children have had in the past. In fact, some of them up here has already started to make all schools on an equal basis would mean a set-back to some of the fine schools they have, and we imagine they will resist any plan to take in white children in their set-up.

THE SLEEPING-PILL HABIT

Sleeping pills, unless taken under a physician's supervision, may be harmful. Foolish is the man who, without medical advice, thinks he must have one at bedtime. Although they are not habit-forming in the same sense as morphine, a psychological addiction often develops, especially in weak-willed individuals. When prescribed by a physician during illness, sleeping pills produce much-needed sleep and rest. On a physician's list of most important drugs, barbiturates rank high. But never take one unless it is ordered by your doctor. Only then is it safe.

New Neighbors for Someone

Most new homes mean other requests for telephones... and it gives us a lot of pleasure to fill these requests as fast as possible... But new telephones don't come as easy as they used to - for, just as this young bride will find out soon enough, today's dollars won't buy as much of today's necessities as one would have them buy.

With today's inflated dollars, in fact, your telephone company must pay as much for 1/2 a pole as a whole one cost in 1941; and half a building costs as much now as a whole one cost then; and taxes, wages, and everything else have soared in cost.

Inflation makes it harder to provide service for additional customers, too, because we must get investors to supply the money to expand and improve telephone facilities - and investors want a fair return on money invested in telephone property.

How investment for each additional telephone has increased.
